To Whom It May Concern:

I have been dealing with Andrea at Ad-Vision Promotions for almost 5 years. I was working at a prior company getting ready for an event in Bermuda when less than two weeks before our ship date I received a phone call from my vendor telling me that he cancelled all of my orders and no longer wanted to do business with the company. Needless to say I was devastated by this situation and that I had over 100 people arriving in Bermuda expecting to have a variety of promotional items in their rooms. I made a call and spoke with Andrea and I don't know how she did it, but she pulled it off. I received everything that I needed in time to send down to Bermuda.

When I started working for Quakerbridge Radiology Associates I remembered how Andrea went through hoops to help me for any and all events. I have enjoyed a tremendously successful business relationship with Ad-Vision Promotions. The personalized service has been exceptional and far beyond what any other promotional company has ever offered. Andrea Anepete has been able to anticipate my needs by searching out products that suit our style and our budget well in advance. She has been excellent to deal with, always keeps us in mind when new items come out and is truly amazing with last minute requests with honoring our need to be financially responsible with our expenses. Ad-Vision Promotions is our promotional company of choice and will continue to be so for a long time to come!

Sincerely,
